WESTERLY, R.I. – Former three-time All-America and 2005 NCAA Individual Champion, Anna Grzebien, opened her professional golf career on Tuesday with a five-stroke victory at the CVS Charity Classic New England Women's Open in Westerly, R.I., which was being played at the Weekapaug Golf Club.

After Monday's round was washed out due to rain, Grzebien opened Tuesday morning with a four-under-par, 68. In the afternoon, she turned in a one-over-par, 37, to conclude the tournament with a 27-hole total of 105. She won by five strokes over Susan Bond (110), Susan Choi (110), Laura Shanahan Rowe (111) and Beth O'Kelly (112). The final round was reduced to nine holes due to rain on Monday.

With the victory, Grzebien registered a paycheck of $1,365 to start her professional career.

A two-time winner of the New England Women's Golf Association Amateur Championship, Grzebien also won the 17th Massachusetts Women's Open Championship last August.

While at Duke Grzebien led the Blue Devils to three NCAA Championships, four ACC titles and 32 tournament victories. Over her career, she posted 26 top-10 finishes, which ranks fourth on Duke's all-time list, while her 45 rounds of even or under par is third. Grzebien finished off her career with a sixth place finish at the NCAA Championship and notched an overall 73.77 stroke average as a senior.
